GEMS SCHOLARSHIP

GRADUATE EDUCATION IN MATHEMATICS AND SCIENCE

Two $20,000 merit-based scholarships, presented by the School of Education, are available for students entering the Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) or Master of Education in Special Education and Academic Instruction Certificate (MOSAIC) program in Mathematics or Science Education.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?
Students entering the Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) or Master of Special Education and Academic Instruction Certificate (MOSAIC) program in Mathematics or Science Education.

HOW MANY SCHOLARSHIPS ARE AVAILABLE?
Each year, one student studying Mathematics Education and one student studying Science Education will receive the award. In addition to the GEMS scholarships, several other generous merit scholarships are available for our Teacher Education students.

HOW MUCH IS THE AWARD?
The scholarship provides $10,000 per semester for the fall and spring.

HOW DO YOU APPLY?
A separate application is not required. Your application for admission to the University of Pittsburgh School of Education will be reviewed in consideration of the scholarship.
