Call for Manuscripts

Manuscripts are accepted on an ongoing basis.

This Call for Manuscripts is extended to scholars to submit manuscripts related to Black people throughout the African Diaspora for publication consideration in The Negro Educational Review (NER). We encourage submission of scholarly articles and research reports; scholarly analyses and descriptions of social problems; and significant compilations and creative works that address research, theory, and practice. We welcome manuscripts from all disciplines that address issues related to Black people.

NER is an international, peer-reviewed scholarly journal. In publication since 1950, currently NER is published at the University of Pittsburgh School of Education. The journal has subscribers in every state and in many foreign countries, including England, Ireland, Germany, Holland, Switzerland, Japan, Korea, Nigeria, and Burundi. Most subscribers are libraries, primarily university and large city libraries. Individual subscriptions also are available.

Manuscripts must be prepared according to the guidelines of the most recent Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) and must be submitted electronically. Length of manuscript must be 5000 words or more. An abstract of approximately 150 words must be attached to the manuscript. Additional information about manuscript submission is attached and appears in the journal.

Information for Authors

Preparation of Manuscripts
1. Manuscripts should be prepared and submitted in Microsoft Word, no tracking features.
3. Use of African American – White and Black people are African Americans. NER editors suggest authors use Black American or White American. Use of People of Color – White, Black, Brown, etc., people are all of color. State the target group and/or groups that may be marginalized.
4. Manuscripts should be in Times New Roman with 12-point font.
5. Manuscript length must be 5000 words or more.
6. Attach abstract of approximately 150 words, no citations in abstract.
7. Tables, figures, and references must conform to the most recent edition of the APA.
8. Do not embed tables and figures in the body of the manuscript. Instead, make a reference to where tables and figures should be placed in the manuscript. For example, (Insert Table 1 about here) on a separate line.
9. Number of words in title of manuscript must conform to APA guidelines.
10. Add a running head that does not exceed 50-character spaces.
11. Attach tables and figures to end of the manuscript.
12. All pages of the manuscript should be numbered consecutively.
13. When necessary, author(s) are required to secure permission to produce copyrighted material.
14. Manuscripts that do not conform to these guidelines shall be returned for revision.

Cover Letter to Accompany Manuscripts
Manuscripts must be accompanied by a signed cover letter that provides the following:
1. Name of manuscript
2. First, middle, and last name of author(s) and degree designation
3. Professional title for author(s)
4. Complete name and address of institution and department
5. Home and work telephone number(s)
6. Email address for author(s)

Also, author(s) must indicate that the manuscript:
7. Has not been published elsewhere
8. Has not been submitted for publication elsewhere

Finally, author(s) must indicate that:
9. Sources have been accurately identified
10. Credit has been given for the work of others
11. Permission is granted to publish in NER

Submission of Manuscripts
